Tequila

Distilled and fermented from the agave plant in the highlands of central Mexico, tequila can be 100% Agave or Mixto. 100% Agave has more body, flavor and aroma. Mixto tequilas are made from 51% agave sugars and sugars such as corn.

Blanco (Plata, Silver): under 60 days old. May be "rested" for up to 30 days. "Gold" tequilas are also blanco tequilas with coloring and flavoring ingredients added usually to smoothen the harshness. Most "gold" tequilas are mixto.

Reposado: aged two months to a year, richer & more complex.

Anejo: stored in government-sealed barrels for a minimum of a year up to ten years.

Super Premium & Specialty: a new type of anejo that is ultra aged, at least three years. Rich and complex, with notes of chocolate caramel, leather and wood. "Reserva de Case" or "Reserva de la Familia", limited production and is either reposado or anejo.
